MEMORANDUM FOR : THE RECORD

SUBJECT : MKULTRA, Subproject 109

1. The purpose of this subproject is to provide funds for the continuation of a study of potential psychopharmacological agents. In particular, studies will be directed to the elucidation of interrelationships between molecular constitution and biological response. Studies will be conducted into the biochemical characteristics of certain types of Chemical moieties which are of interest to TSD/BB in carrying out its program on the development of means to control Human Behavior.

2. The attached Budget indicates the extent of the investigations that will be carried out under the direction of Dr. [REDACTED]

C [REDACTED] In facilities available at the [REDACTED] B The funds for this project will be transferred using the [REDACTED] as a cutout.

3. The studies being carried out under this subproject were originally planned to cover a period of approximately five years based upon the attached proposal. However, the change in emphasis of the present TSD program requires that these plans be altered considerably. The investigation has therefore agreed to produce as many actual end-item compounds as possible during the next year and also to consider this as the final year of the project. For this reason the attached budget has been scaled down from the original estimate of $29,578.00 to $21,080.00. The lower figure reflects mostly lowered personnel costs occasioned by the simpler developmental activities now planned.

[REDACTED]

4. The cost of this program for a period of one year will not exceed $21,080.00 to which must be added the four per cent fee to the [REDACTED] making the total amount $21,923.20. Charges should be made against Allotment No. 3125-1390-3902.

B 5. The [REDACTED] requires that the [REDACTED] submit to them a summary accounting on an annual basis of all monies received from the [REDACTED]. Also, unexpended funds will be returned by the [REDACTED] as soon as possible upon the close of the grant year.

6. A requirement for a six months' informal accounting on the part of the principal investigator is waived.

7. It is not anticipated that any permanent equipment will be needed for this program.

8. In connection with travel under this project, it is agreed that the Agency will accept the travel documentation and accounting which conform with the practices of the [REDACTED]

9. It is agreed that technical reports reflecting the progress of the research program shall be submitted at mutually acceptable intervals. <sup>B</sup>

PROPOSED RESEARCH PROJECT
TO BE SUPPORTED

BY THE
AT THE

(Effective July 1, 1960)

Project Title: The Synthesis and Biochemical Evaluation of Potential Psychopharmacological Agents.

Principal Investigator: [REDACTED] Ph.D., Professor and Head of the Department of Pharmaceutical and Medicinal Chemistry, College of Pharmacy.*

For the past several years, the applicant has been engaged in research involving (I) the synthesis of organic entities having potential effects upon the central nervous system, and (II) the evaluation of connections between the chemical and pharmacodynamic properties of these compounds. The applicant is primarily interested in the fundamental study of relationships between molecular constitution and biochemical response, and is particularly concerned with the effect of gradual changes in the chemical structure of synthetic entities upon isolated enzyme systems. The reader is referred to (A) reports submitted earlier to the [REDACTED] 1-7, and (B) published accounts 8-19 for supplemental information.

The applicant plans to continue his investigation in accordance with the principles set forth in the cited communications. Specifically, he intends to:

1. Synthesize several series of new compounds patterned after (a) organic amines known to affect the central nervous system, and (b) moieties acknowledged as substrates in enzyme systems implicated in the pharmacodynamics of compounds possessing psychopharmacological properties. The member compounds of each series will be designed with gradual changes in their constitution, or physical properties, or both; furthermore, they will be planned in such a manner that potential differences in the interaction between the member compounds of a given synthetic series and a given enzyme may be interpreted in terms of concepts reasonably well established in contemporary theoretical chemistry.
2. Study the effect of these entities upon (a) isolated enzyme preparations believed to be associated with brain function, and (b) other plausible biochemical systems.
3. Explore relationships between the biochemical activity of each series of derivatives, and the successive changes in the chemical and physical characteristics of the member compounds.

***

At present, our synthetic work is centered around series of arylalkylaminoalkylacetamides, and pyridine- and piperidinecarboxamides which could be visualized as moieties derived from the psychotomimetic molecule LSD (see Figures I, II, III and IV; other series have been planned).

Concurrently, the completed compounds are being evaluated in isolated cholinesterase systems in which LSD has shown remarkable specificity. Our manometric procedures yield very precise measurements of activity in isolated pseudo- and acetylcholinesterase systems, and enable us to evaluate the significance of even minor variations in activity due to small constitutional changes in a series of molecules.

We are aware of the fact that the effectiveness of a psychopharmacological agent in vitro cannot be interpreted as evidence for the involvement of the specific enzyme in the mechanism of psychotomimetic responses. Yet even without conclusive causal connection, this approach may furnish valuable information on the nature of psychopharmacological agents.

It is felt that this investigation may yield (a) information assisting the elucidation of interrelationships between molecular constitution and biological response, (b) better insight into the biochemical characteristics and therapeutic potentialities of certain types of moieties, (c) several series of new organic compounds and information about their physical characteristics, and (d) data supplementing our knowledge of the neurochemical processes associated with the action of psychopharmacological agents.

In particular, studies will be directed to the elucidation of interrelationships between molecular constitution and biological response. Studies will be conducted into the biochemical characteristics of certain types of <sup>Chemical</sup> moieties which are of interest to TSD/RB <sup>BB</sup> in carrying out its program on the development of means to control human behavior.

2. The attached Budget indicates the extent of the investigations that will be carried out under the direction of Dr. [REDACTED] C in facilities available at the [REDACTED] B. The funds for this project will be transferred using the [REDACTED] C as a cutout. <sup>STP</sup> For administrative purposes in this project, the salary of the principal investigator, Dr. [REDACTED] C will be carried as a separate budget item and will be paid directly to him by the cutout.

4. The cost of this program for a period of one year will not exceed $21,080.00<sup>21,080.00</sup> to which must be added the four per cent fee to the <sup>21,923.20</sup> making the total amount $25,043.20. Charges should be made against Allotment No. 2125-1390-3902.

5. The [REDACTED] requires that the [REDACTED] submit to them a summary accounting on an annual basis of all monies received from the [REDACTED]. Also, unexpended funds will be returned by the [REDACTED] as soon as possible upon the close of the grant year.
